Honk: No Noise is Illegal

---

12 min. 30 sec.

Producers: Sara Deforest, Deborah Neigher, Jane Ottensmeyer, and Chloe Zimmerman. (Tufts)

The Honkfest held every year in Somerville and Cambridge is an explosion of music, dance, pageantry, and politics This documentary explores the relationship between music and political expression and shows the deep need we all have to express our concerns about the economy, the environment, and other social issues through music and art.

Ghosts 22

3 min.

Directed by Johnathan Carr, a music video for track 22 on Nine Inch Nails instrumental album “Ghosts” with Olivia Rizzo as a mysterious girl lost in the forest. Johnathan Carr grew up in Medford and graduated from Emerson College in 2004 with a Bachelor’s in filmmaking. Johnathan is a past participant in the “Doc” Kountze film festival.

Till You’re Gone

3 min.

Directors: Paul Cummings and Tony Fianduca
Second Assistant Producer and co-editor: Johnathan Carr.

Tourette’s: What Makes You Tic?

---

10 min.

Producers: Alison Barash, Julie Bourque, Lily Safron, Megan Terraforte. (Tufts)

Marc Elliot just graduated from Washington University and has a complex form of Tourette’s Syndrome. He makes sounds and says inappropriate words that he cannot control. This year he has embarked on a tour to talk about how his behavior challenges people’s tolerance and what we can learn from that. This documentary attempts to give the audience an inside look at how people react to others who are different and Marc’s day to day life. In addition, Marc details the progression of his Tourette’s with personal anecdotes.
